WELCOME TO SOUTH JUNIATA COUNTY!

ALL THERE IS TO DO SOUTH OF PA-322

Like an everchanging kaleidoscope, every mile of South Juniata County presents itself to the eye like a new scene. To the thousands who travel along the banks of the Juniata River and through the mountains and valleys that make up this area, the scenery and activities are a source of never-ending delight.

Once inhabited by many tribes of Native Americans, the forests and waters were the haunts of the original people who have left a special mark on the county with their melodious names including Tuscarora and Juniata.

The early settlers also helped create the rich and varied heritage we know today. Once a bustling hub on the Pennsylvania Canal and the Pennsylvania Railroad, Juniata County is easily accessed from most major cities within a few hours via modern highways.

Browse our self-guided tours featuring three of the biggest attractions in the southern end of the county. These itineraries will introduce you to local businesses, historic sites, delicious food, and lodging ideas, all located south of Route 322.

It is the true "heartland" of Pennsylvania and finding its hidden charms amid the sweeping landscape is worth the journey!

PORT ROYAL SPEEDWAY Known as "The Speed Palace," Port Royal Speedway is arguably the premier half-mile dirt track on the East Coast, if not the country. The track is host to a jam-packed race schedule of sprint car and stock car races throughout its 8-month season.

The fan-friendly venue has undertaken several major projects that gives fans an experience that puts them close to the drivers and cars - a big attraction even when they aren't going around the track.

For those who choose to travel by RV or camper, the track's camping area will enhance the overall experience at the track. Set your camping area up for the weekend and visit the following locations to supply your tailgate with the freshest food or tastiest drinks from the area.

RISE 'N SHINE

IHOP in Mifflintown will serve you breakfast any time of day.

POUR DECISIONS

HAZARD'S DISTILLERY Great times start with Hazard's. This micro-distillery is producing hand-crafted batches of artisan whiskey and moonshine. Their tasting room pays homage to the building's former life as a car garage.

Make it a party by stopping by ROYAL BEVERAGE to pick up your choice of craft, domestic, and import beer, spirits, and non-alcoholic beverages.

RACE DAY GRUB

BENNER'S BUTCHER SHOPPE This custom butchering and curing shop specializes in farm beef and pork. Select from a great variety of a freshly cut meats.

LOAGIES HOAGIES Known locally to have the best Philly-style cheesesteaks around!

TURBETT BACK 40 Pack a ton of flavor into your next tailgate with their line of gourmet sauces and dips. Seafood available in the freezer section.

TYSON HILL OIP Best pizza in town.

LODGING

BUTTONWOOD CAMPGROUND, RIVER'S EDGE RV PARK AND CAMPGROUND, and the CHRISTIAN RETREAT CENTER are nearby for more RV camping.

Gather your race family and head to either 13 OAKS CABIN or MILEPOST 142 for accommodations surrounded by the area's natural beauty.

THE ECONO LODGE offers 47 individually furnished guestrooms.

ADDITIONAL LANDMARKS

JUNIATA COUNTY COURTHOUSE

The Juniata County Courthouse is nearly 150 years old, yet still plays a vital governing role. Constructed of 425,000 good bricks and 20,000 pressed bricks, the courthouse was completed Jan. 1, 1875. The building was completed as designed with the addition of a bell tower, clock, furniture and more for a total cost of $63,000. A revolving display of county artifacts is on display in the hallways by the Juniata County Historical Society.

BOOK INDIAN MOUND

Early landowners and others, unaware and disregarding its significance to the Native American culture, scattered most of its contents over their fields or removed the artifacts. By the time the Pennsylvania Historical Commission performed an investigative dig in 1929, the plow and vandalism had significantly altered the mound's characteristic elements. A small monument marks the location of the former mound.

FORT BIGHAM

Placed in 1934, a monument for Fort Bigham was erected and dedicated to mark the area where the fort once stood. The fort was erected in 1754 by pioneer settlers who were captured and killed in 1756 by Native Americans. The fort was rebuilt in 1760 but was again destroyed in 1766. However, the inhabitants were warned by a friendly native of the coming attack and were able to escape unharmed.
